

JUSTIN S. DANIELS

PRACTICAL LEGAL TIPS

Residential and General Contractors Need License in Georgia

I thought I would pass along information about a new law

As of July 1, 2008 residential and general contractors who do work in Georgia must obtain a license from the State Licensing Board for Residential and General Contractors. All applicants will have to pass a two part examination and pay a licensing fee. The law provides, however, an exemption for homeowners who wish to make their own home improvements. You can learn more by using the following link. <http://sos.georgia.gov/plb/faqs/49%20faqs.htm>

As always, your trusted legal resource for practical advice.

For more information about me, click below.

Justin S. Daniels, Esq., MBA
Wagner, Johnston & Rosenthal, P.C.
5855 Sandy Springs, Circle, Suite 300
Atlanta, Georgia 30328-4834
www.wjrlaw.com